

INSTRUCTIONS:

Find all 11 Gilmore Girls Seasons. Yes, that is all 7 seasons of the OG series, and the four "seasons" of the revival. Each season comprises of 8 emojis representing story points in order that they happened. Use the following clues to guess which 8 emojis we chose for each. We used the Unicode standard version 14.0 emoji set.

SEASON 1

Rory has to pick a sport to play at her new school, so she gets her grandfather's help. Babette and Morey do love their Cinnamon. But what a shock when they have to say goodbye. Good thing the town is there for them. Rory celebrates her 16th birthday and experiences a first in the market near the ant spray. During the holidays, there is a quick reality check for the Gilmore patriarch. Stella gets loose in Lorelai's house with only a lemon lamp casualty. According to Lorelai, the perfect proposal should involve the number 1000.

SEASON 2

Only Lorelai Gilmore would play dress up to build a house. The town finally deals with all the cars outside of Luke's Diner. The girls head out of town on a road trip, but only if they can pick a location. A mother/daughter fashion show has Lorelai and Emily paired up. In the winter, the girls pay homage to Björk in hopes to win a contest. There are couples pairing up for lunch, thanks to a bidding war in town. Jess does not want to eat his dessert with a spoon. And the books are finally closed for one Gilmore girl as she struts across the stage.

SEASON 3

Rory and Paris are in the nation's capital for the summer. Rory seeks help applying to college and meets a couple of competitive, Ivy League-bound kids. Lane is ready to stand out in the crowd... but not with this color. A new neighbor, Dwight, has very particular directions on his lawn, and Rory has to go get help to shut it all off. Kirk takes his annual jog around the gymnasium and his treasure to the diner the next day. The Gilmore Girls are world-champion eaters, so 4 dinners don't seem like too much. They'll just skip the rolls. Careful not to walk too close to the lake, or you might get a black eye. In the end, an unexpected incident leaves the door open for Lorelai & Sookie to buy the Dragonfly.

SEASON 4

The girls are back from Europe with lots of gifts and no totes to carry them. Moving into the dorms turns out to be quite an adventure for Luke and his truck. Kirk gets very into his role while Andrew is as still as a statue. Rory reviews what she's witnessed but makes an enemy in the process. The Gilmores get up before 11 am on a Saturday. Luke must break into the church once more to finally put an end to it. Lorelai and Rory are so busy these days they come up with a plan to recognize each other when they go window shopping. Luke gets some help and finally sees her face while doing the dishes.

SEASON 5

The Cider Mill has its grand opening in town, and Lorelai accidentally bumps into a kid. Luke and Lorelai go out for dinner, during which he pulls out a scorpion! Whoa! She wasn't expecting that! And it looks like it's gonna be a landslide as the town selects, man. Sookie realizes she is expecting while a Mailer won't order any food. Rory has a new adventure, taking her to great heights. Trouble arises, and the town is split. Whose side are you on? An old man leaves his possessions to the town, including one heavy ball that leaves its mark. And oh no! That was naut a call Lorelai was expecting.

SEASON 6

June 3rd is the perfect date to make an appearance. Lorelai is missing Rory, so she focuses on another. Rory becomes Emily's insider at the DAR, spying on all of the gossipers. Then she celebrates her 21st birthday, but it isn't the way she had imagined it to be. Not until she and her mom make it right on the second row of the Taj Mahal. It's Rory's takeover of Paris, and she isn't thrilled by the news. A romantic trip to the coast is planned, and a delicious meal too. Freeze-dried spaghetti is not going to cut it. Lorelai usually knows how to paint the perfect party, but this time it backfires.

SEASON 7

Rory is clearly in love and misses Logan already. His going-away-present has her up all night on the internet. The town stinks, thanks to a derailment. Lorelai and Christopher escape to Paris and wander the streets, where they can't even find the makings for a sandwich. Back in Stars Hollow, the town gathers to raise money for another restoration. How much would you give per skein? Lorelai slips in a character reference on Luke's behalf. Emily is metaphorically going around in a circle when Richard gets sick. Lorelai has car trouble, so she finds another way.

WINTER

Stars Hollow has questionable service, so Rory has to carry a lot. Kirk & Lulu are proud parents now. Richard is still looking over the house... well, the living room. We travel back in time to experience the loss and all the feels. Lorelai contemplates her future and goes to speak to an old friend who is now in the business of making dynasties. Brian can have the extra room tonight, but first, he must be in tune. When throwing out everything that doesn't bring you joy, be sure to dress like Lorelai.

SPRING

An international celebration is happening in the town square, and the Kims are there to represent! Rory flies back to London but decides not to write Naomi's book, which has turned into a children's book, apparently. Kirk has made his next masterpiece. Rory visits her alma mater and speaks about the toughest class she took. Later, she's bored in line while Lorelai sweetly talks her way into owning what everyone is waiting for. In the end, Rory trashes the Sandy Says opportunity and moves back to Stars Hollow.

SUMMER

Oh no! Someone vandalized the pool. Extra Extra! The girl who starred in Kinky Boots is in town! Hopefully, Taylor Doose keeps busy, so no one tells him about the crowd that gathers in the alley. Rory gets advice from an old friend. Near the end, the girls visit the Gilmore patriarch, but there is another typo.

FALL

Lorelai is a fan of the book and not the movie, so she packs up and heads west. She bonds with a group of women who have the same idea. Meanwhile, Rory reunites with some familiar faces. Lorelai comes to a revelation because of coffee and goes home. Rory finds a familiar place to write her book. The eldest Gilmore girl takes on a new life in Nantucket. In the end, the girls travel to the town square with Luke, and with a single turn, we witness the perfect ending created by Kirk.
